1. Your Individual Blog Assignments will be linked from this page...
3. Please submit the link to your blog on SULIS by the end of Week 8.

4. You will create your own blog/portfolio and post at least 3 specified posts.

Requirements

Your WordPress URL should be your name, or a derivative of it.

The About page post has to contain your name (you may leave out your surname if you wish), a photo, and a short biography or statement about you.

You must have at least 1 widget installed and functioning on your page.

Post 1: You will write about the actions you personally are taking (or planning to take) for dealing with climate change, word count is 300-500 words. It can be on transport, waste management, recycling etc. Embed at least 1 video and 1 photo in the post, crediting any external sources you used.

Due: End of Week 8, for 5% of your final grade. Submit the link to the post on SULIS.

Post 2: You will write a short academic article (500 words not counting the references) on a concept presented during lectures. Use references and examples. Publish the abstract (50 words) as blog post, and include a link to the full article as a PDF, which should be stored in your blog's media library. For every 50 words > or < than 500 words, there will be a penalty of 1% of the assigned marks.

Due: End of Week 11, for 5% of your final grade. Submit the link to the post on SULIS.

Post 3: You will write about “the making of” your group video. What exactly was your contribution? How difficult was the assignment? (etc.) No word limit. Include pictures where possible.

Due: End of Week 12, for 5% of your final grade. Submit the link to the post on SULIS.

From 6 years ago, here is Nessa’s WordPress; https://nessadinneen.wordpress.com/
It was generic in form for 1st Year, but has grown into an interesting portfolio. She has ‘found her voice’ as a very good writer, so many of her more recent posts are text-based and tell a story.
